WHY RICH MEN'S SONS FAIL

Some newspaper sharp was recently interviewing Simon Cameron about his son Don, the Pennsylvania Senator, when the old fellow made the following remark: "Yes, Don has had a good chance in the world, but I had one great advantage that he was deprived of." On being asked what that was, he answered: "The advantage of having been born poor." It has always been remarked that the successful men of one generation were, in nine cases out of ten, the poor boys of the preceding one. Men who had spent thousands educating bright and noble sons have seen them passed in the race by boys who never had any advantage, but who had to go to work as soon as their limbs were strong enough, and never got their noses off the grindstones until they earned their own independence. One great reason for the difference must be that one is educated to close application and thoroughness, while the other is not pressed into doing any of the unpleasant things, a complete knowledge of which seems necessary to make a man master of any business. If a boy goes out to learn a trade, there will be times when his duties become irksome and his patience is put sorely to the test. The poor boy has no remedy, except to grind away; and it may be that this is the discipline which makes the successful man in later years. The other boy, who has a good home and kind parents to go to, who think they must save their darling from every annoyance, resents the pressure of those in charge when he wants to slight his work. He thinks he must be pushed ahead as fast as he gets a smattering of the lower branches of his trade. He wants to select the share of the work that suits him best, no matter whether it is best for the interest of the shop or not. If he is not listened to, he goes to mamma and tells her how hard and tedious his duties are, and how well he is fitted for a higher sphere. Mamma goes to papa, who has had a pretty hard row to hoe himself, and wants to save his boy the hardships he has seen. Instead of sending his boy back to his work with a wise word of encouragement and a lesson in perseverance, they sympathize and condole with him, and promise to pick the rocks out of the road so that his tender feet may have an easy path. If they do not succeed in convincing his employer that he is ready for a journeyman's place after six or eight months' apprenticeship, they allow him to drop his work, and he goes home to live until some nice easy place opens, when perhaps the same thing is repeated. Such parents forget that they cannot always be with their children to lift them over the hard places. They forget that the period of apprenticeship lasts but two or three years, while its effects will be felt for a lifetime. They do not consider that the impatience of youth is not the best guide for forming a business education or trade by. They are so anxious to save their boys from hardship that they actually spoil them, and render them unfit to bear the strain and fatigue of years of business activity and sharp competition, and the consequence is they become triflers if not loafers. A few practical lessons in manly perseverance and close application go a long way to make successful men, and the few months spent in apprenticeship are precious, no matter how small the compensation or how hard the work.

Oregon News.
SEATTLE, July 11.
 To-morrow workmen will begin driving piles for the immense wharf of the Oregon Improvement Company. It will store 5,000 tons of grain, besides a great quantity of miscellaneous freight.
 The entire Sound is obscured by smoke from fires in different sections of the country. Rain is much needed.
 China has appointed Makien, a Europeanized diplomat, to negotiate with the French in the Tonquin affair.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

We have on several occasions called public attention to the fact that the Board of Pardons had turned loose unworthy characters, who almost immediately became involved in fresh difficulties and had to be sent up again, at great cost to the different counties. The pardon of young Fitzgerald, who killed Tom Laswell, while it may not be a dangerous case, seems to be a case where sympathy overrode justice, for he undoubtedly deserved a severe punishment than he has received for the killing of Laswell.

The Board of Pardons have changed their rule and will meet every six months, instead of quarterly, as now.

EASTERN DISPATCHES.

(PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.

The Chicago "Tribune" shakes them up on Passenger Charges. CHICAGO, July 11.

The Tribune says there can hardly fail to be some disappointment in the public mind as to the rates which it is announced the Northern Pacific will charge travellers over its line to the Pacific. In a recent interview in St. Paul, the general traffic manager, Mr. Muir, stated to our reporter that the rate for a first-class passage to Portland from St. Paul would be $100, and that for intermediate points and for second-class proportionate figures would be made. The distance between the two termini of the Northern Pacific being 1,916 miles, the charge of $100 is at the rate of more than 5 1/2 cents per mile. This, it must be remembered, is simply the charge for hauling.

The sleeping-car accommodations will be an extra charge and a heavy one and the cost of meals and incidentals will make the whole cost quite as much as that of a sail twice as long across the ocean to Europe. At these prices, after a man of moderate means had gone with his family of, say one wife, which is the full allowance this side of Salt Lake—and four children, and had enjoyed the seductive pleasures of sleeping-cars and dining-cars and parlor reclining cars, he would find himself out of pocket about all he could save in a year. The Traffic Manager of the Northern Pacific seeks to make the charges, which he announces look reasonable by comparison between them and those of the Union and Central Pacific roads. This is an unfortunate comparison; these roads are managed by men who have made themselves and the corporations under which they have cloaked their rapacity, odious by extortion and disregard of the people's rights and interest. The slight difference which he shows to exist in favor of the moderate rates of the charges of the Northern Pacific is by no means large enough, if the rates of the Central Pacific are to be the standard of extortion; the difference should be enormous. What is yet worse for Mr. Muir's comparison, is that the information has just reached us that the Railroad Commissioners of California have at last been frightened into action by symptoms of a righteous, popular wrath with their complacent tolerance of the outrages of the Stanford-Crocker gang, and have reduced the rates of the Central and Southern Pacific to four cents per mile on all their system, except where they cross mountains and desert. This leaves the Northern Pacific rates more than those of the most unconscionable monopoly among American railroads, and that, too, in the face of facts of which the Northern Pacific authorities are never tired of reminding, that they have not a mile of desert, and that their mountain passes are thousands of feet lower than those of the other trans-continental lines.

A Dastardly Murder.

DES MOINES, July 11.
 The following are the particulars of the murder of R. S. Clingan of Polk City, in this county, late last night. Mr. Clingan, and his clerk, S. C. Hanger, were closing the store for the night, when two men came up to them, saying: "Good evening, gentlemen," and drawing revolvers at the same time, without any warning, fired at Clingan, the ball taking effect below the collar bone. He died instantly. The whole county adjacent to Polk City was aroused, and squads of men on horseback spent the night scouring the whole region. There is a report that the pursuers are close on the track of the murderers. Two horses that they had stolen and ridden nearly to death having been found abandoned, and two more horses stolen there.

A Fatal Railroad Collision in Pennsylvania.

TITUSVILLE, July 11.
 A special says: The excursion train from the city, containing about 75 members of the Masonic Lodges, while returning from Jamestown, collided with a freight train on the Buffalo & Southwestern at 2 o'clock A. M.

two miles from Jamestown, instantly killing George Gates, conductor, M. D. Colby, brakeman of the freight train, and fatally injured W. J. Ionis, another brakeman. No one was hurt on the excursion train. The engineers and firemen of both trains were saved by jumping. Both engines were smashed, and many freight cars. The force drove the excursion coaches back 25 feet, but they kept the track. Colby's limbs were mashed to a jelly and Gates, the conductor, was roasted in the ruins. The cause of the accident was the failure of the engineer of the freight train to obey orders.

The Remains of Archbishop Purcell Lying in State.

CINCINNATI, July 10.
 The body of the late Archbishop Purcell was moved to-day to the cathedral, where it was placed on a dais at the altar, at the end of the centre aisle, reclining at such an angle, and at such a height as to be conspicuous from all parts of the auditorium. The altar and the columns were draped in black. There is a large candleabra on each side of his head, burning lighted candles. Four Catholic Knights, in full uniform, stand on guard; the people enter in double file, ascend to the dais, separate and pass on either side and depart by side aisles. To-night, while the priests were chanting offices for the dead, a steady stream of people were passing by viewing the dead body. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, and the burial afterwards at St. Martin's Convent.

Murderous Tramps.

GREENFIELD, Ills., July 11.
 On Tuesday night four harvesters boarded a train at Whitehall, 12 miles north of this place, to steal a ride; and when at this station four others boarded the same car, apparently for the same purpose, but after the train was in motion, they drew revolvers on the first four men, and, after making them deliver what money they had to them, drove them off the moving train. One man named Patrick Knight fell headlong and was killed. The four tramps who were responsible for the deed were arrested at Brighton yesterday morning.

Sanitary Precautions in Mississippi.

JACKSON, July 11.
 The following order was issued to-day by the Mississippi State Board of Health: "It is hereby ordered that on and after this date, and until further orders, all boats on the Mississippi river, coming from points south of this State, will be required to land at the inspection station at Port Adams and be inspected before they will be allowed to land at any point in this State. Certificates of inspection in New Orleans, by Inspectors of the Sanitary Council of Mississippi Valley, will be recognized at the station; and it is suggested that all boats from that place provide themselves with such certificates."

Kearny and Maybell in Chicago.

CHICAGO, July 10.
 An open air meeting held to-night, at which Dennis Kearny of California was to speak, but owing to illness he did not appear. Instead, however, Stephen Maybell of California, Kearny's coadjutor, spoke upon the solution of the Chinese question in California and the plan which Kearny and himself were urging increased wages for workmen, and fixing railroad tariffs and charges in other lines of business. Between 500 and 1,000 were present.

Severe Storm in Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, July 11.
 A heavy rain storm, accompanied by thunder and lightning and very high winds, passed over the northern part of the State yesterday afternoon, doing great damage to crops, railroads and country roads. Hall fell at Green Bay, smashing windows, and the streets were flooded. Fon du Lac suffered severely, but the extent of the damage financially is unknown.

Important Loan Collection.

NEW YORK, July 11.
 The Art Committee of the Southern Exposition, who have been stopping at the Hotel Brunswick for the past month, have almost concluded arrangements for a gallery at Louisville, which opens August 1st. The indications from the catalogue now in preparation, are that this will be the most important loan collection yet held in America.

Fatal Shooting.

BALTIMORE, July 11.
 John Maguire, a gardener, ordered James Clinton, aged 15, and Harry Gaskins, a companion, who were trespassing, off his premises, when Clinton drew a pistol and fatally wounded Maguire.

Funeral of Bishop Purcell.

CINCINNATI, O., July 11.
 The funeral of Archbishop Purcell was one of the most solemn services ever seen in the cathedral.

—Yesterday a Norwegian mariner offered his services as mate to the Galveston authorities to take a yellow-fever-infected ship to Hampton Roads for $250, but, as he had never had the yellow fever, his offer was declined.

FOREIGN TELEGRAPH.

(PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.)

The English Channel Tunnel—Returned Emigrants.

LONDON, July 11.
 Although a joint committee of the House of Lords and Commons rejected, the Marquis of Lansdown reported in favor of the tunnel under the English Channel. The majority of the committee differed so much relative to their reasons for voting against it, that they refrain from presenting any collective statement of their views to Parliament.

Pauper emigrants who returned to Ireland by order of the American authorities, on the steamers Fuortressia and Apain, were landed at Queenstown yesterday. All accounts agree in describing them as a wretched class of people, one family, consisting of a man, and his wife and five children, were left lying on the wharf for three hours, before the officials, who had not been advised of their coming, provided for them.

The Daphne Investigation.

LONDON, July 11.
 A number of unsuccessful attempts have been made to raise the steamer Daphne. Eighty bodies thus far have been recovered. The inquiry instituted by the Government to ascertain the cause of the accident has begun, under the direction of Sir Edward Reed. The builders of the Daphne testified she was launched in the usual manner, and no fear had been entertained of any danger. They said the deck on the starboard side had been removed to admit the boiler plates; the planking and other material were stored on other parts of the deck. She sank on her port side.

The House of Lords on the Irish Situation.

LONDON, July 10.
 The report of the committee of the House of Lords on the Irish Land Act to the House of Commons, says they find that the emigration clause has failed, that the modes of valuation of land are unreliable, that the relations between the landlords and tenants have not improved, and that tenants have become demoralized and maintain hopes that fresh agitation will bring about the passage of a new act.

Prussia and the Vatican.

BERLIN, July 11.
 It is stated on good authority by the North German Gazette, in a recent article on the relations between Prussia and the Vatican, prompted by late reports from Her Von Schloer, the Prussian representative at the Vatican, who is expected here toward the end of the present month, that the feeling here against the Vatican is so strong that the possibility of a rupture of the relations is being considered.

Sentence Confirmed.

TRALEE, Ireland, July 11.
 The sentence upon Edward Harrington, brother of the member of Parliament, Timothy Harrington, and publisher of the Kerry Sentinel, for printing a notice inviting the people to join the Invincibles, was confirmed to-day, Harrington having appealed against the sentence. Broanran, the foreman printer at the Sentinel office where the notice was printed, was discharged from custody.

The French and Chinese.

SARGON, July 10.
 The Regent of Anam and Tudee has been taken seriously ill. Four thousand and 10,000 are concentrated at Sontal, where they are entrencing. The French transport Ananmit started for Halphong Sunday, and the Mytho will sail to-morrow.
 Captain Kergaradee has been appointed French Consul at Bangkok.

SAN FRANCISCO NEWS.

Gold and Silver Product of California—Absconding Collectors—Changes in the Mail Service.
 SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.

From the reports of H. C. Burchard, Director of U. S. Mints, now here, the following facts are learned regarding the production of precious metals in California in 1892. No figures for '93 are yet attainable: California held second place among the gold and silver producing States, a diminution of $1,300,000 from the product of 1891. The total production is estimated at $17,645,000, of which $845,000 is silver, the remainder gold.

King and Bigham, managers of the institution known as the Merchants' Collecting Bureau, have disappeared from the city, taking with them some thousands of dollars fished from the merchants in different parts of the coast.

Harrison J. McKusick, superintendent of the railway mail service of the Pacific coast, states that the new regulations will soon be put in operation. The principal changes will be a reduction of 24 hours in the time between San Francisco and New Orleans.

—The grand jury of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, has indicted Archie H. Ravand, County Clerk, charging him with misdemeanor in office.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

—The correspondents of E. P. Bacon & Co., at Milwaukee, say that throughout Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota, the crop of wheat and oats will be abundant.

—A convention of colored men was held in Austin, Texas, yesterday, to consider the decision recently made by Judge Turner of the United States District Court declaring the civil rights bill constitutional.

—Advices from Venezuela state that locusts are making havoc in many parts of the country. They have reached Puerto Caballo, Valencia, and inland districts in the same longitude. In one night all vegetation in the neighborhood of Mooron was destroyed. It is feared they will soon reach the fertile valleys of Caracas.

HAWAII.

What a Reno "Print" Thinks of Honolulu.

The following letter was received this morning from Gordon Rice, formerly of the GAZETTE office, who is now at Honolulu.

HONOLULU, H. I., July 1, 1883.

If a person were to go to sleep on an ocean steamer expecting to awake in sight of an unknown land, he would think on setting foot in Honolulu that fate had dropped him into some quaint, old Spanish town. From the wharf you wander off up a narrow and decidedly dirty alley, and on asking what direction to take to get into the street you need not be surprised if you are treated with a vacant stare of five minutes duration, and then saucily told that you are on the street now. That's the way I got it, and I awoke to the realization that I was indeed on Honolulu's main thoroughfare—an alley 20 feet wide. This city of 50,000 souls resembles a vast park, so dense being the foliage that the horizon on any side does not look more than 100 yards distant.

It's "hotter than blazes" here, but your correspondent has got pretty well used to it. Talk about dull holes, though; it's duller here than a Plute's wits. If a man has got a situation here, it's a good place to save money in. If he has not got something to do, it's the best kind of a place to stay away from, as everybody is here to make money, and what you get you have to pay for, and pay well, too. The heathen Chinese is not the same animal here you find him in Nevada. Here he waits on you, shaves you, sells you your dry goods and groceries, assesses your property and arrests you if you don't toe the mark. It's a hard old town for a "print"—drinks (and vile ones) cost 25 cents, and if a policeman smells whisky on your breath, you are looked up 24 hours and fined $10.

State Criminals Before the Board of Pardons.

The Board of Pardons met again yesterday, completed their labors and adjourned. The following cases were disposed of:

Refused—Thos. Flynn and Owen Ferguson.

Pardoned—L. P. Fuller, sent from Lincoln county for murder, and who had but few months to serve.

Withdrawn—Helen T. Loveless. Restored to citizenship—John Curran.

The Board refused to reopen the case of Geo. F. Gardner.

The cases of B. S. Cosgrove, Jas. Gibbons, Alex. Goyette and Florence Dolan were continued for the term.

Names For All.

Nearly everything in this world has its own name, and it is well it is so. The boys on the Bidwell stage line know each one of the stages by its own nickname. One is "Twister," another, "Chicken coop," another, "Town-wagon," one the "McFarlands," etc. Congressman Hymers dubbed one the "Bouncer" yesterday for the benefit of a GAZETTE reporter.

THE PANAMA CANAL.

A Description of the Monster Dredging Machine Used to Join the Waters of the Atlantic and Pacific.

The dredger of the Panama Canal is believed to be the most effective of anything of the kind ever in use. The machinery of the dredger is mounted on a scow 100 feet long, 60 feet wide, and 12 feet deep. There are eight engines, arranged in four pairs, which furnish the power. The main engines are for driving the buckets which do the digging, and are of 250 horse-power, having Myers' adjustable cut-off. The belt from the engine runs to the top of the bucket tower to a pulley eight feet in diameter, which drives the compound running gear, connected with the upper tumbler shaft, which is 10 inches in diameter. The shaft moves a 36-inch square drum, over which the buckets pass when they dump their loads into the hopper. The bucket tower is 45 feet high above deck. There are 38 buckets with a capacity of one and a half cubic yards each. From 16 to 18 bucketsful of dirt per minute are discharged into a hopper attached to a cast-iron elbow near the top of the tower. This elbow is five feet and four inches in diameter where it connects with the hopper, and 36 inches in diameter where it connects at the lower end to the discharge pipe, which is attached to the elbow. This pipe is made of boiler iron and is 150 feet long. The distance the mud falls, the position in which it strikes, and the inclination of the discharge pipe, gives the mud a velocity of from 1,300, to 2,000 feet per minute through the pipe, according to the kind of material which is being dug and discharged. The discharge pipe stands on a derrick which stands on the scow. Water is pumped into the hopper by a pair of 10-inch pumps from the canal through a seven-inch pipe which passes through the

BOTTOM OF THE BOAT.

And extends to the hopper, at the top of the bucket-tower. A second pair of engines, of 30-horse power, raises and lowers the ladder that supports the buckets; they are attached to a drum for that purpose. There is a hinged joint in the ladder, outside of the derrick, for the purpose of operating one section of the ladder independent of the other. A half-inch cable connects the drum to the outward end of the lower section by two bales. The endless chain, to which the buckets are attached, is made of horse-shoe iron, one and one-eighth inches by nine inches. Another pair of spud and gypsy engines of 30-horse power are used for raising the spuds and feeding the buckets. The dredger rests upon the spud, upon which it can be revolved without stopping the dredging buckets, thus enabling the apparatus to dig from side to side at will. A chute connects with the hopper, and is boarded on the sides to prevent the water from falling upon the deck. The fourth pair of engines, also of 30-horse power, are connected to a windlass for snag pulling. The engines are all supplied with steam from one set of three boilers, and will require only about two tons of coal per day. Six men, including the Superintendent, run the entire machine. The capacity of the dredger is 1,000 cubic yards per hour. The canal is to be 100 feet wide at the bottom, 185 feet at the top and 27 feet deep.

The Product of the Mesquite.

The Arizona Citizen says: The mesquite trees are now loaded with their fruit, which resembles the locust pod and bean, to which species the mesquite belongs. The pods measure from eight to ten inches in length, and are very edible for Indians and burros. The Papagoes gather the beans, dry them and grind them with stones, to a flour, which, mixed with water, and baked on heated rocks, forms a very pleasant cake, and is good to keep one from starving.

No Cause for Anxiety.

Johnson Sides came in this morning, and his first inquiry was whether Gen. Crook had been heard from. When his mind was relieved on that score, he stated that an Indian had crossed the country from Fort Hall to Fort Bidwell, and found no Indians at all. The settlers have no cause for alarm at all. He came by Stein's mountain and Harney Valley, and said there were no dissatisfied Indians anywhere.

A. O. U. W.

Grand Master Workman J. W. Kinley of the A. O. U. W. arrived in Reno this morning, and is registered at the Depot Hotel. Mr. Kinley visits Reno for the purpose of considering the proposition to organize a new lodge of Workmen here. A meeting of Nevada Lodge No. 5 will be held at Dr. Wagar's office this evening at 8 o'clock, when the above proposition will be submitted to them by the Grand Master Workman.

The Nevada and Oregon.

The little Santa Cruz, handled by Charley McNelly and "conducted" by Nate Kendall, is doing good work. It is bringing daily from Antelope, 30 miles from here, 18,000 feet of lumber and 50 cords of wood; for schooling and Bragg, making two trips a day.

PERSONALS.

Ex-Secretary of State Babcock is here to-day.

Ed. Barber is keeping Martin & Augustine's books.

J. H. Whitted, Superintendent of the C. P., was here this morning.

Warden Frank Bell and family came down from Carson last evening.

Mrs. W. M. Boardman and family left this morning for Monterey.

Charley Fassett of Ruby Hill, and formerly of Reno, came from below this morning.

Mrs. Governor Adams came from San Francisco, and left for Carson this morning.

Three car-loads of California fruit were attached to the east-bound express this morning.

Senator Hub Parker came from Carson this morning on his way to some favorable spot in the Sierras for deer.

John D. Winters, the first Democratic candidate for Governor of Nevada, and brother of Theodore Winters, is in town.

Col. Hardin of Humboldt county, arrived this morning with eight car-loads of beefs for the San Francisco market. The Col. says stock never looked so well in Humboldt, at this season of the year, as now.

A. Livingston, ex-county treasurer of Douglas county, with his family, took the east-bound train for Salt Lake City where he will locate. Mr. Livingston leaves many friends in Western Nevada.

D. O. Mills and family came in from New York in their private car attached to the regular overland this morning. Mr. Mills was met here by his nephew Frank, of the First National Bank of Sacramento, who came up this morning, and Superintendent Yerington, D. A. Bender and D. L. Bliss of the V. & T. The V. & T. officials accompanied Mr. Mills on a trip south by the morning express. He will inspect the C. & C. before his return. His family went on to tide water.

School Money Apportionment.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Young has made the second semi-annual apportionment of school moneys for 1883, on the basis of $1,650 12 per census child, as follows:

Stable Burned.

Saturday evening a fire broke out in the stable of R. Barclay, at Stampede station, on the Carlin road, says the Tuscarora Times, destroying a large quantity of hay, together with a fine stallion belonging to Mr. Barclay and a fine mare, the property of M. B. Dunton. Several trunks filled with clothing, stored in the stable, were also consumed. The fire is supposed to have originated from a lighted candle used by persons sleeping there. In attempting to loosen the horses, Mr. Barclay's clothing caught fire, and he was compelled to abandon the animals to their fate. Loss not known.

A Rich Country.

The Mexican Central Railroad does not traverse nearly as desolate a region as many suppose. There is along its line 21 cities, that have an aggregate population of 897,000, and nine of them are State capitals. It runs by seven mints that work metals to the value of not less than $35,000,000, and the agricultural value of the 12 States traversed is quite $110,000,000.

A Congressman Abroad.

Congressman-elect Charles A. Sumner of California writes a letter from Liverpool to the San Francisco Examiner, in which he makes the astounding discovery that the people there are very much like our own. Sumner, always did delight in sensational surprises.

A Natural Bridge.

There is a natural bridge in Arizona which is said to surpass the famous Virginia bridge for size and beauty. It has lately been discovered. It is 100 miles from Phoenix, and can be approached within two miles by wagon.

K. of P. Picnic.

The picnic of the Knights of Pythias to be held at Treadway's Park, Carson, on Saturday next, promises to be a complete success. Nothing has or will be left undone to make it, in every detail, the most satisfactory picnic of the season.

A Generous Servant.

Cranston Allen, who lately took the census of this school district for the very moderate compensation of $60, has out of that amount generously donated $20 to the fund of Reno School District No. 10.

A Tony Place.

Tallac, Lake Tahoe, is getting to be very toney. A lady who does not change her attire three or four times daily is not regarded as belonging to the ton.

DR. LIEBIG

Dispensary Cor. Geary and Mason Sts. San Francisco, Cal.

THE COLLEGIATE INvestigator for the cure of special diseases and so-called incurable chronic diseases of the male sex. Dr. Liebig's German Investigator is positively guaranteed to cure nervous and physical debility, seminal weakness, loss of manhood, spermatorrhea, loss of energy, Kinging and Discharge in the Head, Manhood, Erection, Impotence, and all the results of youthful impudence and excesses of mature years. The Doctor, a regular college physician from Europe, will agree to refund one-half the cost of the treatment if the patient does not get cured. The Investigator will not cure unless the patient is cured. The reason so many cannot get cured of these diseases is owing to a complication called "PROSTATE" which requires special treatment.

Dr. Liebig's Investigator No. 2 is the only positive cure for Prostate. Price of either Investigator, $2 per bottle; six for $10. Sent to any address on receipt of price, or C. O. D. Responsible persons can pay when cured. Strictest Secrecy Maintained. Patients cured at home. Dr. Liebig's Dispensary has an Eighty Drug Store in its building.

Too frequent evacuations of the Bladder and Ropy Sediment in urine are symptoms of Secondary Seminal Weakness and Prostate. Complaints readily yield to the DR. LIEBIG TREATMENT.

Ordinary Cases—Any recent case of special or private diseases cured for $10. Remedies sufficient to cure will be promptly sent, with full directions and advice, on receipt of $10. All packages are securely covered from observation.

Invigorator Samples Free.

To prove the wonderful power of the GREAT GERMAN INVESTIGATOR, a $2 bottle of either number will be sent free of charge. Persons ordering a free bottle will only have to pay expressage on delivery.

Most Powerful Electric Belts Free to Patients. Consultation, Examination and advice free and private. Call or write.
